Hillsboro Opens War On Starlings And Blackbirds

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—A dozen marksmen take aim today to launch this tiny city's war against the thousands of starlings and blackbirds that swarm into town every evening.

The orders to open fire on the birds has brought protests from national animal protection agencies, but Mayor Dean Hill just says he wishes the people who protest could see "the actual filth-the droppings and feathers."

"I started to go up on one lady's porch yesterday and got splattered pretty good," Hill said Friday. "So I told her, 'I'm not coming up there, and you're not coming out here. We'll stand here and talk.'"

"The droppings and feathers are so thick in some places you think you can't walk through it."

Cleveland Amory, national president of the Fund for Animals sent Hillsboro officials telegrams expressing shock and urging postponement of the bird shoot so "a better, more effective, humane" method can be used.

Sandra E. Rowland, assistant to the Midwest coordinator of the Fund for Animals, also protested, saying "we feel that it is becoming an American tradition to solve a problem by pulling out a gun and shooting at it."

The streets of Hillsboro are lined with trees, and Hill guesses that the human population of 5,500 is about equalled by the number of starlings and blackbirds that swarm into town every night to roost in the trees.

"People have different ideas why they come to town. I've heard that they like the lights, that they like people, that they like the heat—it's a few degrees warmer in town."

"I stood and watched them tonight," the mayor said. "They start about five after 7. They pour in in groups of as much as 200 or 300. The blackbirds come first, coming in low, then the starlings come in right behind them flying high."

"There were so many of them in one tree they actually shook the tree."

"One woman finally gave up and went out yesterday and cut the tops out of her three trees—40 or 50-foot maples, they were."

"In the morning when they leave town the sky is absolutely black."

Hill said a lot of people have offered suggestions for ridding the city of the nuisance but "they don't really tell you how to do it, because they don't really know how to do it themselves."

Russia Bested U.S. In Wheat Dealings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shrewd Russian traders bested the United States in the massive 1972 wheat deal but it shouldn't happen again, Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz says.

The Russians "were very sharp in their buying practices" in the 440-million-bushel grain deal, Shultz told a news conference Friday.

Meanwhile, Sen. Walter Huddleston, D-Ky., said the Russians may be reaping a huge profit by reselling some of the wheat in Italy.

"For a country of noncapitalists, the Soviet Union has pulled off a major coup," Huddleston told newsmen.

In a floor speech, Huddleston asked the Agriculture Department and the General Accounting Office to probe the sale.

The Soviet Union is getting more than double their money by selling the grain at current inflated world prices, he told newsmen.

With the help of a three-year, $750-million U.S. loan, the Russians bought the grain last year at about $1.68 a bushel Huddleston said. Now, he said, he has learned from an Italian informant and Rome press accounts that a ship unloaded 22,000 metric tons of Russian grain near Rome and two other ships have carried grain there.

Huddleston said he was unable to find out who purchased the grain but presumes it was sold at the world price of $4.65 a bushel or more.

Huddleston said the increase in domestic wheat prices following the wheat deal was partially to blame for the record 23.1 per cent increase in wholesale farm prices in August.

Ehrlichman Free After Appearance; No Bond Given

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former White House adviser John D. Ehrlichman was free without bail today, released after pleading innocent to burglary, conspiracy and perjury charges.

Ehrlichman, who until earlier this year was President Nixon's top domestic adviser, appeared before Superior Court Judge James G. Kolts on Friday for arraignment on indictments stemming from the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

The smiling, tanned Ehrlichman was the third former White House employee indicted in the case to surrender. Egil Krogh Jr. and David Young pleaded innocent earlier. Watergate conspirator G. Gordon Liddy, who already is in jail, has not been arraigned.

From the courtroom, Ehrlichman went to Los Angeles County jail, where he spent 25 minutes being put through the routine booking procedure.

Ehrlichman told newsmen outside the court, "I'm going to be following the unvarying practice of having no comment on this matter until its final disposition." He deferred all questions to his local attorney, Joseph Ball.

Ehrlichman was arraigned formally by Dep. Dist. Atty. Stephen Trott, who will prosecute the case. Kolts set a Sept. 20 hearing for naming a trial date but agreed that Ehrlichman need not appear for the pretrial matters. Ehrlichman said he was returning to his home in Seattle, Wash.

Ball, a gray-haired veteran criminal defender, declined to answer most questions but said, "My information so far is that he's not guilty of any crime." Ball said he drew his conclusion from "reading the newspapers and from a general impression of Mr. Ehrlichman as being an honest and considerate man."

Beef Ceiling Erased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has decided to lift the beef price ceiling earlier than scheduled, permit automakers to raise prices, and allow grocers to pass higher food costs on to customers; it all means another round of price increases for consumers.

The freeze will be lifted from beef at midnight Sunday, two days earlier than scheduled. The new food price controls will go into effect at the same time.

The Cost of Living Council sought to blunt the increase in the price of autos by ordering cutbacks of 10 to 30 per cent in price hikes proposed by Ford, General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors.

It also announced it is delaying proposed price increases by major ture, paper and soap and detergent manufacturers while it holds public hearings on the increases to decide whether they are warranted.

The actions Friday came after the government announced that wholesale prices of farm products increased by 23.1 per cent in August, the biggest single monthly increase since the government began keeping statistics in 1913.

About the only good news for the consumer was that gasoline prices would go down from one to three cents per gallon at many gasoline stations around the country today as the government's new price ceilings on gasoline went into effect.

The council's actions will have the following impact on the consumer:

—Prices of beef products probably will start increasing beginning Monday.

—Prices of all other foods will rise again as a result of the new controls, probably also starting Monday.

—Prices of 1974 automobiles probably will increase starting about Sept. 14 as the council approved average increases of $74 by Ford, $73 by General Motors, $55 for American Motors and $51 for Chrysler.

—Price increases for tires, paper products, soap and detergent, scheduled to go up next week, will be delayed.

Council director John T. Dunlop said a decision would be made Monday on proposed price increases by 10 major steel companies.

Dunlop said beef price ceilings were removed two days early partly to help head off possible beef shortages.

The new food price regulations also go into effect two days early. Dunlop said this was designed to help facilitate accounting procedures by business.

The food price regulations permit the food industry to pass along to retail prices all justified higher costs.

Previously, only increases for higher raw agricultural costs were allowed, not increases for such things as labor and transportation.

The post-freeze increase in prices of farm products of 23.1 per cent was characterized by Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz Friday as a "terrible drama in the economy." Both Shultz and Dunlop made qualified predictions that the worst is over.

But Shultz said, "I don't think that anyone, including me, has all that great a track record on predicting food prices."

Arabs Seize Fifth Hostage

KUWAIT (AP) — Five Palestinian gunmen seized a senior Palestine Liberation Organization official who was negotiating with them today and held him on board a Kuwaiti airliner along with four other hostages, Kuwait radio reported.

The broadcast said the gunmen were holding Aly Yassin, head of the Palestine Liberation Organization's office in Kuwait. He had been negotiating with them on board the Kuwaiti Airlines Boeing 707 for the release of four other hostages taken by the gunmen in a raid on the Saudi Arabian Embassy in Paris.

The Palestine Liberation Organization is the umbrella body of all major Palestinian guerrilla groups in the Middle East.

Earlier the Middle East News Agency reported the gunmen agreed to release the four Saudi hostages and take a car to Syria.

Airport sources said the plan was for them to drive to Damascus via Baghdad in a car provided by the government, and that Yassin was to be the driver.

The plane is parked on a strip of desert off the airport tarmac with the sun blazing down on it. The temperature reached 115 degrees late this morning and there was no air conditioning unit attached to the aircraft.

Before the guerrillas accepted the government's offer, officials had broken radio contact with the plane for 9½ hours after the Palestinians allegedly lied about shooting one of their hostages.

Officials said the reports of the shooting were a ruse, apparently made to get the plane airborne once again. They said the gunmen had offered to release the supposedly wounded man only if a new flight crew was sent aboard the jetliner, a Kuwait Airlines Boeing 707 parked in an isolated corner of the airport.

But officials refused to allow the flight crew to go near the plane.

The original crew was released by the guerrillas on Friday after the gunmen had the plane take off from

Kuwait and circle for several hours over Saudi Arabia. The flight was made in a futile effort to force Jordan to release Abu Daoud, a Palestinian serving a life sentence for trying to overthrow King Hussein.

The hostages were all Saudi Arabians and the gunmen backed down on their threats to toss the hostages out of the plane over Saudi Arabia unless Jordan released Daoud. The Saudi embassy in Paris said there were four hostages, although earlier reports had mentioned six persons.

The gunmen seized their hostages Wednesday in an attack on the Saudi embassy in Paris. They demanded safe passage out of France and the release of Daoud.

A Syrian airliner brought them to Kuwait on Thursday after a stopover in Cairo. They immediately began negotiating with Kuwaiti officials for Daoud's release, but the Kuwaitis said they could not guarantee any action by Jordan.

Rain, Fog Cloudiness Covers U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain, fog and clouds prevailed over much of the nation today.

Heavy showers pelted the Missouri Valley, the middle and lower Mississippi Valley and the southern Plains.

Little Rock Air Force Base was hit by nearly 4 inches of rain Friday night, and a flashflood watch was in effect for central and northeastern Arkansas.

Nearly an inch of rain fell at Randolph Air Force Base near San Antonio, Tex., and between a quarter and half-inch were measured at Alexandria, La., Wichita, Kan., Sioux City, Iowa and Billings, Mont.

Fog shrouded much of the central Plains and lower Missouri Valley, with visibility at Kansas City down to one-half mile.

Partly cloudy skies were the rule from the Gulf and Atlantic coasts through the Great Lakes region to the northern Plains.

However, clear skies prevailed from the central Pacific coast to the southern Rockies.

Warm, humid weather clung to the Southeast while it was cool and dry in the northeast and central states.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 39 at Redmond, Ore., and Pellston, Mich. to 90 at Needles, Calif.

President Seeks Peace With Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has quietly extended an olive branch to the Democratic-controlled Congress after publicly attacking it earlier in the week.

At a private White House breakfast Friday, Nixon told Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield he was only referring to the failure of Congress to enact his proposals when he accused it during his nationally televised news conference of a "very disappointing" record this year.

Mansfield, long eager for closer relations between the White House and Congress, seemed willing in a post-breakfast interview to accept Nixon's peace offer.

"The climate for accommodation and partnership between the two branches is good," the Montana Democrat said.

He said Nixon told him at the breakfast that "the overall record (of Congress) was good" though it had failed to pass many of his proposals.

Mansfield said Nixon told him about what the President termed "a new State of the Union message," due to be sent to Congress on Monday.

Without going into detail, Mansfield confirmed speculation among congressional leaders that the message will be largely a repackaging of previous Nixon proposals with few new items.

Asked whether it would contain much new legislation, Mansfield replied "Nothing much in the way of new material but emphasis on requests previously made."

This could include the President's revenue sharing proposals, a package of energy proposals, the massive trade measure, which is unlikely to be passed until next year, and probably the administration's housing proposal.

Say Colson Wanted To Blacken Ellsberg

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former presidential aide Charles W. Colson wanted to try the Daniel Ellsberg case in the newspapers instead of the courts, a document obtained by the Senate Watergate committee shows.

Colson's wish to discredit Ellsberg played a role in the White House hiring of E. Howard Hunt, according to the document, a transcript of a July 1, 1971, telephone conversation between Colson and Hunt.

In the conversation, Colson told Hunt that Ellsberg was likely to be turned into a martyr by the "New Left" unless something was done to embarrass him publicly. "We might be able to put this bastard into a helluva situation and discredit the New Left," suggested Colson.

Colson told Hunt, later convicted in the Watergate break-in that he was not interested in trying the case in the courts but in the newspapers.

Hunt, the transcript showed, agreed with Colson that "we should go down the line to nail the guy cold" out of court.

The conversation occurred the day after the Supreme Court refused to stop publication of the Pentagon Papers and two months before the break-in at the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Hunt has testified he helped organize the Ellsberg burglary.

That break-in resulted this week in indictment of former presidential aide John D. Ehrlichman and three others.

Colson recorded his phone conversation with Hunt, transcribed it, then sent the transcript to then-presidential staff chief H.R. Haldeman. In a cover memo to Haldeman, Colson said he was sending the transcript so Haldeman could "get a feel of his (Hunt's) attitude."

In other Watergate developments: —Watergate committee vice chairman Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said "wrongdoings on both sides of the ledger" will come out in the committee's next phase of investigation, embarrassing many Democrats.

—Special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox asked a federal appeals court to allow prosecutors, along with U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica, to listen to secret White House tape recordings.

—Convicted Watergate burglar Frank Sturgis pleaded innocent in Miami to charges of operating a car smuggling ring in Mexico five years ago.

Wiretap Dispute Delays Kissinger Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee's consideration of Henry A. Kissinger's nomination to be secretary of state has been sidetracked by an effort to obtain wiretap information from the Justice Department.

The committee will meet with Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson Monday morning to discuss the possible release of summaries of FBI reports of wiretaps placed on 17 government officials and newsmen in 1969 and 1970.

Kissinger, who spent five hours before the committee, Friday will return to the witness table after that meeting.

Kissinger received a gentle reception from the committee, which appeared pleased by his pledges of openness and cooperation.

But from the opening questions of committee Chairman J.W. Fulbright, it was clear Kissinger would be pressed on his role in the wiretapping, which involved members of his own National Security Council staff.

Kissinger said the taps, "although a very painful process," were "necessary for the purpose of national security."

Saying he had only provided names of persons who possibly could have leaked classified information, Kissinger stated he had little knowledge of what was obtained by the wiretaps.

When he suggested the committee check with the Justice Department for more detail, Fulbright said the department had already turned him down.

This led Sen. Clifford Case, R-N. J., to suggest delaying confirmation until the summary of the FBI reports of the taps are given to the committee.

Otherwise, no serious dispute arose during questioning about Kissinger's dual role as national security adviser and secretary, the rising importance of economics in foreign policy or Southeast Asia.

As to administration moves to keep secret such things as the 1969-70 bombing of Cambodia, Kissinger said if such a circumstance ever arose again, he would find a way to inform the committee.

Defoliants Aid Soybean Harvest

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

Occasionally there is a need for a defoliant or desiccant on soybeans before harvest. This is primarily needed when there is an excessive growth of weeds and the soybeans are near maturity. The need therefore is a desiccant to "dry-down" the vegetation rather than a mere defoliant. Any time a desiccant is used on soybeans before they are near maturity, the yield and quality will be reduced. The magnitude of this reduction is directly related to the stage of maturity of the soybeans.

There have been several materials, including the dinitros, phenols, and chlorates, which have been used in the past as harvest aids for soybeans. With the more restrictive clearances of materials in recent years these do not now have approval.

Paraquat recently received Federal acceptance for a harvest-aid on soybeans for all purposes. Currently this is the one product approved for use on soybeans which are to be fed or processed. There has been a considerable amount of work conducted in Ohio with Paraquat for vegetation control, especially for no-tillage corn. However, it has been used very little as a harvest-aid material. Paraquat is a restricted herbicide but a permit can be secured at the County Extension Office.

The new label has the following instructions for use as a harvest-aid on soybeans:

Soybean Harvest Aid — Apply ½ to 1 pt. per acre on Broadleaf weeds and grasses. Use high rate on cocklebur. Add 1 quart non-ionic surfactant per 100 gals. spray.

Aerial Application — 2 to 5 gals., spray per acre.

Ground Application — 20 to 40 gals. spray per acre. Apply when soybean plants are mature, i.e. beans are fully developed, at least ½ of leaves have dropped, and leaves left on plants are turning yellow. Immature soybeans will be injured. Do not pasture livestock within 15 days of treatment. Remove livestock from treated fields at least 30 days before slaughter.

It has been suggested that the 1 pint per acre rate provides the best performance especially on heavy weed populations and under adverse weather conditions. Applications should be made when no rainfall is forecast for at least 24 hours.

The ideal for efficient soybean production is to prevent weeds from developing and being a problem at harvest. This should be accomplished by good cultural practices and-or the use of the proper herbicides; therefore, the use of a harvest-aid material should not be accepted as a substitute program for other good management practices.

Read and follow the instructions of the complete NEW Paraquat label before applying this material as a Harvest-Aid.

Ohio Feeder Calf Roundup Scheduled

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

Another opportunity for youths in the cow-grazing areas of Ohio is coming up this fall. It's the 7th annual Ohio Feeder Calf Roundup, set for October 5 and 6 in Cooper Arena at the Ohio Expositions Center, Columbus.

"We're asking that entries be sent in by September 20, if possible, to aid in planning the event," says Randall Reed, Extension Animal Science Specialist at The Ohio State University and chairman of the roundup.

Only high-quality calves are wanted at the Roundup, since most of them will be purchased by other 4-H and FFA youths for showing as finished steers or heifers at next year's county fairs.

To be eligible for the show and sale, calves must be sired by purebred Angus, Charolais, Hereford, or Shorthorn bulls and be out of good purebred or good grade cows. The calves must have been dropped after January 1 of this year and must weigh from 350 to 600 pounds.

Entry blanks and fact sheets about the show and sale may be obtained from the County Cooperative Extension Service or from vocational agriculture instructors.

This show and sale is conducted by the Extension Service to provide a good market for calves grown in the grazing areas of the state by boys and girls who have brood cows and feeder calf raising projects. At the same time, it allows youths from grain producing and feeding areas of the state to purchase "pick-of-the-crop" calves which are already acclimated to Ohio conditions, started on feed, and accustomed to a youngster's care. The event is supported financially by Ohio Rural Electric Cooperatives, Inc.

Cookery Workshop to be sponsored by the Pickaway County Extension Service, on September 19, at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m., at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

There will be demonstrations on using low-cost foods to create exciting, nutritious meals. Special recipes for master mixes and main dishes will be provided. We will also discuss food buying, nutrition, labeling and food storage.

Please call the Extension Office, 474-7534, to register.

A Menswear Sewing Clinic will be held on September 17, at 7 p.m., at the Trinity Lutheran Church, 135 E. Mound Street, Circleville (in the basement). Notions for mens clothing, fabric selection, sewing techniques, etc. will be demonstrated by Penni Nielsen, County Extension Agent.

Fee for the clinic is $1.00 and the class is limited to 25 people. Call the Extension Office, 474-7534, to register.

Wheat Yields May Be Set By Farmers

The Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee have advised wheat yields may be established by the producer.

The basic provisions for proven wheat yields are continued under the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973.

Farmers may elect to establish a wheat yield for their farm based on actual production. The base period for establishing the yield is 1968 through 1972. To prove the yield a farmer must have produced wheat on the farm in each of these years and be able to provide reliable proof of production.

In order to assure consideration you must file a written request on or before Sept. 24. Production date timely received will be considered before notifying you of your official 1973 farm wheat yield.

1974 Feed Grain Program Announced

The 1974 Feed Grain Program provides producers with the opportunity to expand production, Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz said in announcing program details today.

There will be no set-aside requirement and no restriction on planting for the 1974 crop program and there will be no conserving base requirement for the 1974 through 1977 crop years, the duration of the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973. Likewise, the provision which gives the Secretary discretionary authority to limit feed grain and wheat to a percentage of allotments and upland cotton planted in excess of the base allotment will not be implemented during the period 1974 through 1977.

Barley will be included in the feed grain program for the duration of the Act.

The new legislation provides for establishing allotments for feed grains in the same fashion as for wheat. The allotment for 1974 is set at 89.0 million acres. The allotment for the feed grains is approximately 68 percent of the base acreage used in former feed grain programs. However, any payments will be paid on the full allotment; whereas, previously, payments were based on only 50 percent of the feed grain base. The feed grain allotment for 1974 does not represent a limit on acreage, but is computed only for the purpose of distributing payments to producers should such payments be required.

This allotment represents the number of acres, harvested for grain, of corn, grain sorghum, and barley based on the estimated national average yield, which would result in production equal to estimated domestic and export disappearance in the 1974-75 marketing year.

Should the average price received by farmers for corn, sorghum or barley be below the statutory target price for the first months of the marketing year the difference between the target price and the average price would be paid to eligible producers after the five months period and there will be no preliminary payments. A producer would be paid on an amount of bushels determined by multiplying the farm allotment times the projected yield established for the farm. The projected yield represents the potential production for the farm as determined by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) County Committee.

Target prices for 1974 are $1.38 per bushel for corn, $1.31 per bushel for grain sorghum ($2.34 per cwt.) and $1.13 per bushel for barley. There are no target prices for oats and rye.

Loan rates for 1974 are based on a national average of $1.10 per bushel for corn, $1.05 per bushel ($1.88 per cwt.) for grain sorghum, $0.90 per bushel for barley, $0.54 per bushel for oats and $0.89 per bushel for rye.

The total amount of payments a person may receive under one or more of the 1974 feed grain, wheat and upland cotton programs may not exceed $20,000.

Producers may substitute any non-conserving crop or any conserving crop used for hay or for grazing in order to preserve their feed grain allotments and to make them eligible for any payments under the target price feature. Crops for which a marketing quota is in effect are excluded.

The soybean loan level for 1974 crop will be $2.25 per bushel — unchanged from the previous year.

Turf And Landscape Day Scheduled At Wooster

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

The latest Ohio research with turf-grasses and landscape plants will be reported at a specialized field day Tuesday, September 11. The 1973 Turf and Landscape Day will be held at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center main campus beginning at 10 a.m.

The program is divided so visitors can zero in on the area of most interest to them. Half the day will be spent touring research plots where specific studies will be explained. The remainder of the program is made up of "mini-lectures"—short but concise discussions of specific subject matter areas.

Those interested in turfgrass will spend the morning touring the research plots. Research scientists and extension specialists will cover four major areas: identification and control of turf weeds, bluegrass varieties, ryegrass varieties, and effect of nitrogen and mowing height on Kentucky bluegrass turf.

Turfgrass mini-lectures will be held in the Center Auditorium beginning at 2 p.m. Included on the program will be discussions of new bluegrass varieties, turf diseases, soil testing, weed control, and Japanese beetles in Ohio turf.

Mini-lectures in landscape horticulture begin at 10 a.m. Subjects to be covered include: soil testing programs, planning for maintenance in landscape design, slug control, plant propagation, pin oak chlorosis, disease-resistant plants for the landscape, rhododendrons, and control of the black vine weevil in Ohio.

The outdoor program for landscape plants will begin at 2 p.m. Demonstrations and discussions will cover the following subjects: tree trunk injection and implantation, using hollies in the landscape, landscaping with dwarf fruit trees, pruning ornamental shrubs, and maple cultivars for landscape use.

Other activities planned for Turf and Landscape Day visitors include a brief speaking program in the Auditorium at 1:00 p.m. OARDC Director Roy M. Kottman will formally welcome visitors and describe some of the highlights of the extensive OARDC research program. Maintenance of the grounds at the Research Center's Wooster campus will be described by Thomas F. Wonderling, coordinator of research operations for OARDC.

At 3 p.m., visitors will be offered wagon tours to Sequest Arboretum. These tours will include stops at turf research plots, the Garden of Roses of Legend and Romance, shade tree evaluation project and visits to rhododendron, flowering crabapple, and evergreen plantings.

Throughout the field day, commercial and educational exhibits will be open to visitors. Problem clinics in insects, diseases, and landscape horticulture will be maintained throughout the day.

Lunch will be available in the Auditorium Building. In case of rain, the entire Turf and Landscape Day program will be held in the Auditorium. Although the program is designed to meet the needs of professional turfgrass and landscape workers, interested homeowners are also invited to attend.

Turf and Landscape Day is a specialized field day sponsored annually by the Research Center and Cooperative Extension Service of The Ohio State University. Cooperating departments include agronomy, horticulture, entomology and plant pathology.

Small Black Beetles Annoy Picnickers

BY GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture
Picnickers, cook outers, strawberry, fruit, and vegetable growers beware of the spoilers. Well, it's about that time of the year again when the picnic beetles make their grand entrance. Just plan a picnic or raise a crop and the word seems to get to the spotted sap beetles and it isn't very long before they get in everyone's hair as well as the potato salad and the tall, cool ones. Maybe you haven't had this experience yet, so I'll describe the pest to you.

The sap beetles or picnic beetles are attracted to the odor of food and especially over-ripe fruit. Our strawberry growers are very familiar with the problem. Sweet corn growers are next in line. Since the beetles are attracted to food (table) as well as vegetables in the garden, control measures are rather difficult mainly because of the constant influx of beetles.

You kill them off one day and there are twice as many the next. It gets kind of discouraging. When the beetles are not flying or getting into trouble they are resting on something. Therefore, they can be controlled by a residual spray. Since they are attracted to odors, anything we can do to cut down the odors should discourage them from coming into the area. With this background, let's see if we can give you some kind of control program.

Sanitation - Do the best you can to eliminate anything in the yard which is drawing the beetles into the area. This could be picking up fallen apples, ripe fruit, or getting rid of the garbage. Where you can find a lot of beetles in any one spot that's the place you need to start to work. There are limits to what you can do here, I know.

Residual Sprays - Since the beetles will often rest in the area at night as well as in the daytime, a spray on these resting areas should reduce the carry-over from day to day. Malathion 50-57 per cent EC at 2 teaspoonsful per gallon of water is recommended. If you use a different formulation, adjust the rate you mix with water. Now to get the job done right, you're just about going to have to spray everything in the immediate area i.e., lawn, buildings, bushes, trees, shrubs, and flowers. You should use at least one gallon of spray for each 1,000 sq. ft. of surface area to get good, thorough coverage. The better coverage you put on the better results you can expect. Repeat treatment as needed.

Quick Knock-Down Sprays - Any beetles that fly around in the air before you're getting ready for an outing, or after food is set out on a table, can be eliminated almost instantly with the bug bombs (in metal cans). These aerosols contain pyrethrins, or Vapona (DDVP) as the real quick knockdown insecticide, but leave little or no residue. If you have to spray around food, make sure that you cover the food before you "blast away," because if you don't it may all taste the same when you get done.

Attracting Stations - Since the beetles are so attracted by certain odors why not take advantage of this and set-up some bait stations several feet away from where the activities are taking place. Use some paper plates and put melon rinds, rotten fruit, or anything you have around that seems to be attracting the beetles on the plates and set these in out-of-the-way places. How many you will need is hard to say, but you might consider using a half dozen or more in an average backyard. You'll want to spray the "bait plates" with the same rate of malathion you used as a residual spray. Put the "bait plates" in position a couple of hours before you plan to eat.

committee that Krogh had told him orders for the break-in came from "the oval office."

Krogh, once a close aide to presidential adviser John D. Ehrlichman, was indicted Tuesday along with Ehrlichman and former White House employees David Young and G. Gordon Liddy on various burglary and conspiracy charges. Ehrlichman also is charged with perjury. Krogh was the first of the four to surrender.

Coshocton County Fire Loss $20,000

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP) — The carcasses of 18 show horses were cleared Thursday from the charred debris of the Coshocton County Fairgrounds show barn in which they perished in a pre-dawn blaze.

Coshocton fair board president Ralph Addy estimated the damage on the building at $20,000. The losses incurred by the owners of the valuable animals have not yet been determined.

But Coshocton Fire Chief Richard Farver says the figure will be "tremendously high" on the estimated value of the horses.

The carcasses have been hauled away and buried at the Coshocton County landfill.

Mrs. Orrel Senter, board secretary of the fair, said the destruction of the open class show horse barn and an attached shed will not have any major effect on the fair scheduled for Oct. 2-7.

"It will interfere to a degree with the exhibition of our horses," she said.

The cause of the blaze has not been determined. Farver said it may take over two months to find out how the fire started.

Commandments For Today's Husbands

DEAR READERS: Last weekend, in all humility and with no intended irreverence to Moses, I published my "TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR WIVES." Here is the companion piece, "TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR HUSBANDS."

1. Thou shalt put thy wife before thy mother, thy father, thy daughter, and thy son, for she is thy lifelong companion.

2. Abuse not thy body either with excessive food, tobacco, or drink, that thy days may be many and healthful in the presence of thy loved ones.

3. Permit neither thy business, nor thy hobby to make of thee a stranger to thy children, for the most precious gift a man giveth his family is his time.

4. Forget not the virtue of cleanliness.

5. Make not thy wife a beggar, but share willingly with her thy worldly goods.

6. Forget not to say, "I love you." For even though thy love be constant, thy wife doth yearn to hear the words.

7. Remember that the approval of thy wife is worth more than the admiring glances of a hundred strangers. Cleave unto her, and forsake all others.

8. Keep thy home in good repair, for out of it cometh the joy of thy old age.

9. Forgive with grace. For who among us does not need to be forgiven?

10. Honor the Lord thy God all the days of thy life, and thy children will rise up and call thee blessed.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower. Never mind my age. I live alone in a five-room house. All I want is company and someone to help me keep this place clean. No hanky panky. She would have a private room and her own TV. If she can't cook, I can. If she is under 55 years of age, tell her to forget it.

PAPPY IN PITTSBURGH
DEAR PAPPY: What do you want a housekeeper, or company Housekeepers can be found through the classified ads, and company is found through mutual acquaintances. If it's a combination, I suggest you socialize, and let it be known you're in the market. You'd have better luck if you found a friend and made her a housekeeper than the other way around.

DEAR ABBY: I recently graduated from high school and thought this problem would be over, but I was wrong.

You see, my mother was never married, and she has never discussed the reason with me. In school when we had to fill out forms, where it had, "Father's name" I always made up one because I was too ashamed to leave it blank.

Now I have the same problem again when I apply for a job.

There are other places where father's name is asked, too; hospital

Nude Cyclist Beats Heat

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — A Midland man blamed beer and the heat for his all-but-nude ride on a bicycle down a city street.

The man, police say, was clad only in tennis shoes.

Bernard McClain, 44, was arrested by Midland police near midnight Wednesday and charged with indecent exposure.

McClain appeared Thursday in Midland District Court still wearing the sneakers as well as a prison suit. He was fined $95 and given a two-year probationary sentence.

McClain told the judge he came home after he'd been out drinking and took his clothes off to beat the heat. When that failed to cool him off, McClain said, he decided to go for a spin.

admission, and insurance forms, to name a few.

What do I say when someone hands a form back to me and says, "You forgot to fill in your father's name?" Thank you, kindly.

FATHERLESS GIRL
DEAR GIRL: It's nobody's business. I checked with the Census Bureau. They referred me to the State Human Rights Office, whose spokesman said, "Just tell her to leave the space blank."

If someone hands it back to you, saying, "You forgot,"—look them right in the eye, and say, "No, I didn't" and hand it right back.

Kissinger Faces Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger today pledged a conscientious effort to work with both Congress and allies overseas for a more peaceful world if confirmed as secretary of state.

In a statement prepared for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Kissinger made a clear attempt to win support of the often-skeptical senators.

He said "our task is to define — together — the contours of a new world, and to shape America's contribution to it."

He added that "with good will on all sides I deeply believe we can reach this goal."

He pledged to seek advice and counsel from many areas of the American public.

"Our foreign policy cannot be effective if it reflects only the sporadic and esoteric initiatives of a small group of specialists," he said.

Kissinger was named by President Nixon on Aug. 22 to succeed William P. Rogers as secretary of state.

The next day, Kissinger told a news conference "the intention of the President, and my intention, is to establish a new and full partnership with the Congress in developing policies which are in the national interest."

Reaction to Kissinger's appointment generally has been favorable in Congress, where his performance in difficult international negotiations has been openly admired.

As national security adviser to the President, the German-born former Harvard professor played a major role in the conclusion of last year's strategic arms limitation agreements with Russia and the Vietnam peace agreement last January.

In secret trips to Peking, Kissinger paved the way for President Nixon's surprise visit to China in February 1972.

Rocking Chair Contest Held; Record Sought

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — While Skylab astronauts were setting world space flight records this week, residents of Boone County were trying to set records in a more traditional pastime—rocking chair rocking.

Twenty-two of the county's staunchest backsides have been shining rocking chair bottoms since Wednesday in an effort to beat the 93-hour world record contained in the Guinness Book of Records.

That record will be set at 7:30 a.m. EDT Sunday.

Those who don't go off their rockers by then will split a $500 prize.

The whole event is taking place on the parking lot of a funeral home and is in honor of the city's 175th anniversary.

Crop Projections Stir Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are some bureaucratic grumblings in the Agriculture Department over a top-level decision to begin releasing crop projection figures for 1974, details that for many years have been used on a confidential basis to help shape farm policy.

The decision to make the 1974 crop projections public was announced Thursday in Lake Geneva, Wis. at a meeting of the U.S. Feed Grains Council by Glenn A. Weir, associate administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Rumors that the projections would be released had circulated earlier this week. Weir, asked Wednesday about them, readily confirmed to newsmen that the figures would be forthcoming.

Sources said, however, that the change in policy from secrecy to public disclosure was made over objections from many officials in other USDA agencies which help supply information used in making advance crop assessments.

According to the sources, strong objections were raised by some officials in agencies such as the Foreign Agricultural Service, the Economic Research Service and the Export Marketing Service.

But the plan to disclose the projection figures for 1974 crop output, expected to commence later this month, was strongly supported by Asst. Secretary of Agriculture Carroll G. Brunthaver, who oversees operations of Weir's agency, the ASCS, and the foreign and export establishments.

News stories about the plan also caught the department's information office off guard. A spokesman said an official news item had been prepared on the new reporting system for release today.

Grain Export Listings Show Variations

WASHINGTON (AP) — New listings of grain for export through next summer continue to show variations from week to week.

As of Aug. 24, exporters had about 1.127 billion bushels of wheat remaining for delivery through next June 30, a decline of 8.4 million from a week earlier.

The listings, issued Thursday by the Agriculture Department, also showed exporters had committed for delivery more than 1.2 billion bushels for corn through the next marketing year which begins Oct. 1. That was up 67.6 million from bookings on Aug. 17.

Soybean deliveries for that crops marketing year which began Sept. 1, were put at 622.7 million bushels, a gain of 36.7 million from a week earlier.

Brazen Thief Gets Siren

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Police said a nifty thief climbed atop two police cruisers parked in a car dealer's lot this week and escaped with the cars' flasher lights and a siren.

The cars had been parked overnight in the lot for warranty repairs the following day, police said.

Police said the lights and siren were worth about $425.

A Page Of Opinion

Corrected Impression

Every now and then someone tries to smash one of those old myths which filter down through the ages as a kind of inherent wisdom. The results are not always successful, as perhaps will be the case with the cluttered desk syndrome. For years it has been said that a cluttered desk is evidence of a cluttered mind. The best organizers, it also is said, have desk tops which look like they have nothing to do.

Not necessarily. A publication of the Research Institute of America, an authority if not the final one, says: "The too-neat desk has been known to be the companion of the rigid mind, wedded to procedure and highly resistant to change." Ominous as that opinion may be, it may be as superficial as the opposite view. Some people might be suspected of having ulterior motives in keeping desks which look as if somebody emptied the waste cans on them. No one is likely to attempt to search the files in their absence, for one thing. When aesthetics overcome performance, an operation could be in trouble. Especially when the cluttered desk belongs to the boss and the secretary does him a favor by clearing away the rubble.

The Avenging Angel

By JEFFREY HART

Improbable as it may at first seem, the coming match in the Houston Astrodome between 55-year-old Bobby Riggs and Billie Jean King may well be one of the great sporting events of the decade—more important than any match between Stan Smith and Ilie Nastase, more riveting than the Super Bowl. The measure is simple: more people will watch it.

Riggs vs. Billie Jean in fact is turning out to be rather like one of the classic million-dollar gate heavyweight fights of the past, for like them it has become the focus of powerful social and psychological emotion.

The warmup for this one, Riggs' match against Margaret Court of Australia, was viewed by more people than any previous sporting event—60 million in four countries, tuned in with the aid of Telstar. In what he now cheerfully calls the "Mother's Day Massacre," little Bobby demolished Mrs. Court, 6-2, 6-1. The Astrodome extravaganza will make the Riggs-Court match look like a casual game at your local club.

The classic heavyweight fights of the past attracted huge gates and national attention not only because of the fighters' skills but because of what the antagonists symbolized.

One skein of great fights dramatized the social rise of the American Irish. John L. Sullivan, the barroom brawler and boozier, was beaten by "Gentleman Jim" Corbett, the polished, handsome, scientific boxer, the early epitome of Irish upward mobility. Finesse (high) defeated brawn (low).

Of course, the racial contest made for great heavyweight drama. Jack Johnson's defeat of the white man Jim Jeffries shocked the white psyche and evoked a whole series of "white hopes," a hope at last fulfilled in 1915 when Jess Willard knocked out Johnson in Havana. And there were multiple meanings to bouts like Joe Louis vs. Max Schmeling, Louis vs. Billy Conn. Furthermore, the great Jewish and Italian fighters meant much to their subcultures.

The Riggs-King match is in this vein. It engages of course the whole battle-of-the-sexes theme, now heated up by an aggressive women's lib movement. Riggs is the avenging angel here, Billie Jean the perfect foil. Riggs is playing on this theme like a boxing maestro of old, billing himself as the "number one male chauvinist pig." But there is much more to it than this.

Riggs, at age 55, comes forward as the apparent victor over that darkest of American bogeys, old age. In the country of the young, "Bobby" has never grown old, never become Mr. Riggs. He is a kind of cosmic victor over time. In a brilliant touch, he says he plans to wear black crepe, his funeral outfit, in the Astrodome: for Mrs. King's funeral, not his.

But there is more. Affluent America is increasingly sports-minded, turning away from work. Except for a brief mistaken interlude, "Bobby" has never done anything but play, play at practically anything. To top it all off, he's a new Horatio Alger, the poor boy who made a million not by working but by playing.

The really great sports spectacles reach toward larger meanings, and the next big one will be in the Astrodome.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you a round peg in a square hole?

Many people suspect all their lives that they are. They stew and wonder if they wouldn't do better and be happier if they were in another line of work.

If they would be, they are fools not to summon up the courage to make a change and give themselves a chance to put their dreams into action.

On the other hand, anyone who does take the bull by the horns runs the risk of being tossed aside and finding himself worse off than before, an unhappy man with a punctured balloon.

He could find himself jobless or scrambling hard to cling to a job that was worse than the one he had left.

It is difficult, perhaps, for you to think of a job less satisfying than the one you're working at. But there are lots of them.

Here, for example are a possible few:

Girdle inspector for a firm specializing in clothing for overweight women.

Guidance counselor in an old folks' home.

Statistician for the police department during a crime wave.

Horse buyer for a company that makes canned dog food.

Dog catcher in a neighborhood full of kids.

A door-to-door salesman in Outer Mongolia.

Stand-in for Yul Brynner.

Ketchup spreader for a "shoot-'em-up" television program.

Standby donor for Count Dracula.

Heating control officer on a scientific project to hatch a dinosaur's egg.

A rabbi in an Eskimo village.

A missionary to hell.

Quality control engineer in a paper clip factory.

Bubble gum remover from Times Square sidewalks.

Porno book peddler at a Boy Scout Jamboree.

Scriptwriter for a bankrupt Chinese fortune cookie maker.

A code clerk in Peking.

A governess for the old lady who lived in a shoe.

A Soviet army sentinel in Siberia.

The night watchman at a reform school for teen-age girls.

The CIA or FBI liaison man for the White House.

Liberace's valet.

Caretaker of a secret Mafia cemetery.

Social secretary for Martha Mitchell.

Entertainment director for a WCTU convention.

Fund raiser for the 1976 Republican convention.

Yes, any job has its own kind of woe. You might as well remain a round peg in a square hole as switch to a new job that would only make you a square peg in a round hole.

Bank Bandit Comes Back

NEW YORK (AP) — "That's him!" 22-year-old teller Louise Zoccolillo blurted out in astonishment while an FBI agent was interviewing her about a bank robbery 10 days before.

But she wasn't referring to a photo from the sheaf of mug shots the agent had been showing her. Instead, she'd just noticed the man walk into the bank again.

The agent quietly stood in line behind the man and watched as he allegedly passed a note demanding $12,000 to another teller Thursday at the Chemical Bank branch on East 42nd Street. Then he collared the suspect, identified as John Curry Hyman, 37.

At an appearance in federal court, Hyman told newsmen he had been "peeved" when the $12,000 he had demanded during a holdup Aug. 28 turned out to total only about $4,000. "I got into the cab afterwards and I started to count the money and then I realized I was gypped, so I decided to go back," said Hyman, who told authorities he'd come to New York two weeks ago from South Carolina and was short of cash.

There are about 3,800 miles of surfaced highways and secondary roads in New Brunswick.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Sept. 8, the 251st day of 1973. There are 114 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1546, a Spanish expedition landed in what is now St. Augustine, Fla., and formed the first permanent European settlement in North America.

On this date— In 1664, Peter Stuyvesant surrendered New Amsterdam to the British.

In 1760, Wisconsin came under English control after being French territory.

In 1855, the Crimean War ended.

In 1883, construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad was completed with the driving of the last spike near Garrison, Mont.

In 1934, 134 persons lost their lives in a fire aboard the luxury liner Morro Castle off the New Jersey coast.

In 1935, Sen. Huey Long of Louisiana was shot at Baton Rouge. He died two days later.

Ten years ago: A 34-year-old grandmother gave birth to quintuplets in Venezuela.

Five years ago: Black Panther leader Huey Newton was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the killing of an Oakland, Calif., policeman.

One year ago: In retaliation for the slaying of Israeli athletes at the Munich Olympics, Israeli air force planes attacked ten Palestinian guerrilla bases and naval installations in Libya and Lebanon.

Today's birthdays: Comedian Sid Caesar is 51. Songwriter Howard Dietz is 77.

Thought for today: Mark Twain gave this advice to young girls: Don't smoke to excess, don't drink to excess and don't marry — to excess.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A new compact artificial kidney machine may soon be available for use in the home. Dr. Finley Markley, working at the University of Chicago and the Argonne National Laboratory, has devised a small dialyzer, or artificial kidney, to cleanse the blood of toxins and poisons that accumulate in people who have chronic kidney disease.

It was not long ago that the high cost of dialysis actually deprived some people of the right to live because machines were so expensive and unavailable.

The new machine is said to operate 25 per cent faster than any artificial kidney machine now in use. The new dialyzer is disposable and is expected to cost about $15.00 when once production makes it commercially available. The preliminary experimental work indicates that this effective machine is almost ready for safe distribution.

Overdoses of alcohol and barbiturates demand the greatest coordination and team work if some patients are to survive. At the University of Pittsburgh, a group of scientists has reported dramatic results with a synthetic chemical now known as cyclic AMP.

This chemical is referred to as a natural body chemical. It has been used in experimental animals and has dramatically reversed the toxic effects of alcohol and sleeping pills.

Congress Unlikely To Extend Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders give little indication of planning to heed President Nixon's suggestion they stay in session until the end of the year, if necessary, to pass administration proposals.

"I'm glad he said 'if necessary,'" Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told a reporter when he heard of Nixon's suggestion Thursday to Republican congressional leaders. Mansfield quickly said he didn't think it would be necessary.

Publicly, both Mansfield and House Speaker Carl Albert insisted Oct. 15 is

Heart Clipper Proves Success

In Transplants

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A tiny clipper that can be threaded down a patient's jugular vein to snip samples of heart tissue is being hailed as a major breakthrough in diagnosing possible rejection of heart transplants.

The instrument, called a biptome, also has great potential in detecting various forms of heart disease which previously could only be seen from electrocardiograms and x-rays, researchers say.

Dr. Norman Shumway, a heart transplant pioneer at Stanford University Medical Center, said Thursday that the biptome has been used successfully in making post-operative checks on 10 transplant patients.

The advantage of the biptome is that "it permits direct judgment, based on tissue study, of the rejection reaction," Shumway said. He said this allows surgeons to avoid unnecessary use of rejection-combating drugs, which cripple the body's defenses and heighten the risk of infection.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, voted with the minority Friday as the Senate rejected 57-30 a motion to drop its support of a move to eliminate 16 limousines for federal officials covered by the Housing and Urban Development appropriations bill. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, was not recorded as voting.

Daley Aids Demo Fund Campaign

CHICAGO (AP) — The Democratic National Committee, which booted Mayor Richard J. Daley out of its convention in 1972, has begun its major 1973 fund-raising campaign at Daley's doorstep.

Daley and party chairman Robert Strauss spoke to 1,000 Democrats Thursday night at the Bismarck Theater, across the street from the City Hall office where Daley has reigned as mayor since 1955.

Strauss and Daley made pleas to the audience to support the party telethon scheduled for Sept. 15 over more than 200 NBC-TV outlets.

Government Stays Out Of Auto Talks

DETROIT (AP) — The Nixon administration says it will not interfere with "free collective bargaining" in the auto industry.

Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan met Thursday with United Auto Workers President Leonard E. Woodcock. Brennan said the conversation dealt with the implementation of new federal safety and health rules which are not related to the industry bargaining.

"We didn't get into the negotiations," he said. "We believe in free collective bargaining." A union spokesman described the meeting as a social visit.

Brennan, a former New York building trades leader, was in Detroit to address the National Alliance of Businessmen.

Negotiators at Chrysler have clamped a lid on disclosures involving the economic portion of the package, which is normally an indication that progress is being made in negotiations. But money is not expected to be the critical issue.

Non-economic issues, particularly the union's demand that overtime be voluntary rather than compulsory, remain the most likely sources of a strike. Working conditions is another major issue in this area.

UAW Vice President Douglas Fraser said Thursday that Chrysler's stance on working conditions looks "more sour" than ever. There have been no reports of progress on the overtime question. The strike deadline is Sept. 14.

Juvenile Court Hears Probation Violation

A 17-year-old Circleville boy was recently brought before juvenile court for probation violation. The youth had failed to obey all laws and ordinances as stated in his probation. He had been charged with five traffic offences.

The court ordered him to undergo treatment at the Scioto Valley Guidance Center and continued probation for one year.

Community Methodist Women Have Service Of Celebration

Women of Community United Methodist Church took part in a Service of Celebration Wednesday as the name of the women's organization was changed from Women's Society of Christian Service to United Methodist Women.

Mrs. Fritz Jacobs welcomed members and outlined what the Women's Society did over the past year.

The women were entertained by the singing group "New Life" which was an outgrowth of the society. Songs included "Right Now" and "Abraham, Martin and John."

Mrs. Davis Frazer introduced Sue Milburn and Mark Scherer who expressed their appreciation for the society sending them to camp this summer. Miss Milburn attended the Youth School of Missions at Oterbein College. She told of her experiences while at the school and urged the women to send more youth next year.

Mark Scherer attended the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Camp held at Dennison University. He told of his experiences and thanked the society for making it possible.

A cross-talk between members of the society and the students followed their presentations.

Mrs. William Stout reported on the future of the United Methodist Women and asked for suggestions for projects for the coming year.

During the business meeting new officers were elected. They will be installed in December at the Christmas dinner. Leading the women will be: Mrs. William Stout, president; Mrs. David Frazer and Mrs. Robert

Court Of Appeals To Receive Case Of Fired Deputies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The case of two dismissed Wood County sheriff's deputies will be taken to the 6th Ohio District Court of Appeals in Toledo, the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association said Friday.

The association said it will challenge the decision of Wood County Common Pleas Judge Kenneth Adams who last month upheld the dismissals by former Sheriff Earl Rife.

An association spokesman said, "Our contention is that the deputy sheriffs are included in classified service and thereby have legal rights to their positions."

"In the case of Bruce Pratt and Carl Johnson, they were fired without cause. The sheriff contended they served at his pleasure and were not under civil service."

Whatley Bequest Spurs YMCA Building Fund Here

The thoughts of one man has brought reality to the dream of the Pickaway County YMCA.

Y Director Harold Hewitt announced today the organization is some $550 richer because of the thoughtfulness of the friends of the late Dr. Jack Whatley.

Whatley, a resident of Circleville for several years and employee of DuPont, was an active member of the local YMCA. He requested that at his death his friends and family forego the expense of a floral tribute and instead donate the money to Pickaway County's YMCA, with the hopes of initiating a building fund.

Whatley lost his life to cancer on July 28 but the fund, which has steadily grown, has become a living tribute to him. Associates and family friends from North Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Delaware, as well as Ohio, have sent in contributions.

These monies, Hewitt explained, are being kept in a special fund, reserved, as Whatley asked, to assist in future construction of a Y building and pool for Pickaway County.

Among the contributors is the Circleville Swim Team, which had Whatley's son John as a member before DuPont transferred them to Beaumont, Texas. Whatley and his son were members of the Y Indian Guide program while here and the rest of the family, which includes wife Carolyn and daughter Jennifer, participated in many of the Y programs.

"This is just the beginning," Hewitt commented, "of a continuing account for similar donations to broaden the local YMCA's service to youth and families through a new facility."

Ohio Power Talks Set On Monday

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The striking Utility Workers of America and Ohio Power Co. will meet Monday in Steubenville for the third time since the contract dispute began June 30.

The union represents 1,300 workers at company plants in Ohio and West Virginia.

The two sides have met with federal mediator Joseph Santa Emma two times since the strike began. No progress was reported after those sessions.

The union also represents striking workers at company divisions in Canton, Lima and Tiffin. No talks have been scheduled in that dispute.

Meanwhile, no bargaining sessions between the company and the striking International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers have been set. The union represents division workers in Newark, Zanesville and Steubenville.

Ohio Power has operated its plants and divisions with supervisory personnel since the strike.

Hill Bound To Grand Jury

Jerry Lee Hill, Morris Trailer Court, Route 1, Circleville, was bound to grand jury in Municipal Court Friday.

Four charges were brought against him, with bonds set at $5,000 each.

Hill is charged with two counts of illegal possession of an hallucinogen with two $5,000 recognizance bonds; On one charge of selling or giving away an hallucinogen, Hill signed his own recognizance bond for $4,000 and paid $1,000. On one charge of using a vehicle for keeping, dispensing or administering an hallucinogen he signed his own recognizance bond for $4,000 and paying $1,000 cash.

Logan Elm Loses To West Jeff, 19-6

Logan Elm lost a rugged gridiron battle to Metropolitan League power West Jefferson, 19-6, in the Roughriders' Kile Stadium.

The Roughriders launched a powerful running attack against the Braves with senior halfback Ron Cilli doing almost all of the damage. The 5-foot-7, 150-pound senior was the workhorse of the West Jeff team, carrying the ball 27 times for 258 yards.

Cilli scored all three of the Roughriders' touchdowns, on runs of 17 yards, one yard and 16 yards. Logan Elm's touchdown was a one-yard plunge by senior fullback Dan Ramey. Ramey was LE's leading groundgainer picking up 42 yards in 11 carries.

"I was real pleased with the team," Coach Bob Stant said after the tilt. "This is one of the best teams we will play this year. Only Berne Union and maybe Liberty Union will be as good," Stant opined. Assistant coach Stan Wilamowski agreed. "It was a good football game and I thought the boys did real good tonight," he said.

Logan Elm quarterback Steve Sargent was on target with his passing, completing seven of 17 attempts for 125 yards. His favorite target was Jeff Reichelderfer, sophomore tight end who snared five of the aeriels for 93 yards. Terry Crumley caught one for 22 yards and Wayne Linthicum caught one for 10.

Linthicum sustained a knee injury early in the second half and sat out the remainder of the game while tackle Seth Driesbach had his foot injured in the first half and was sidelined for the rest of the night.

It was a tight game throughout the first three quarters. West Jeff won the toss of the coin and elected to receive.

Wes King's line drive kickoff hit a West Jefferson lineman squarely in the chest and bounded right back into the arms of one of the Logan Elm grididers and it was the Braves ball. They couldn't generate a drive and were forced to kick on the fourth down.

Steve Sargent boomed a punt to the West Jeff 10-yard line. From there the Roughriders mounted a 90-yard scoring drive that was kept alive by an offside penalty when on fourth down with four yards to go at the 43, they

Westfall Blanked By BU, 32-0

Westfall was blanked by Berne Union 32-0 Friday on the Rockets' gridiron in a non-league opener for both schools.

The Mustangs were able to move the ball on the ground, gaining 158 yards, but could not get across the goaline.

Twice they were inside the 10-yard stripe, only to lose the ball on downs. Artie Dick was the leading ground-gainer for Westfall, picking up 60 yards. Rick Gaa rushed for 56 yards, Joe Angles carried for 20 and Tim Hegarty for 16.

Dick was in on 18 tackles and John Long made the initial contact in 14 tackles. Other leading tacklers on the Mustang squad were Randy Puckett, Jim Dawson and Bill Kiser.

Berne Union scored seven points in the first quarter, 13 in the second and 12 in the final period. Westfall had a total of six first downs. The Mustangs completed two of three passes, but gained no yardage in the passing department. Fumbling twice, they lost the ball both times. They punted four times for a 35-yard average and were assessed eight penalties for a total of 50 yards by the officials.

Next Friday they travel to Madison Plains, a 26-0 loser to Adena last night.

MOVING ON — Wayne Linthicum, sophomore halfback for Logan Elm, turns on the steam as he rounds the corner and heads for a 13-yard pickup against West Jeff Friday. The Braves lost the tilt, 19-6.

lined up in a T formation and then shifted to a deep punt formation. On the quick shift, Logan Elm moved across the line.

The final carry of the drive was by Cilli from the 17-yard line with 3:38 to go in the first quarter. The kick by Rich Lawless was good and West Jeff led 6-0.

Again Logan Elm was stalled by the West Jeff defense and the Braves were forced to kick. Eddie Yates gathered in the punt at his own 30-yard line and went all the way for a touchdown, only to have the run nullified by a clipping penalty.

Starting at their own 41-yard line, the hosts moved to the five, but there the Logan Elm defense got tough and Cilli was tossed for a 7-yard loss.

At this point, the Braves' offense came to life. Starting at their 12-yard line they went the length of the field scoring with 3:38 to go in the half. Ramey carried the final four yards of the drive. He got it started on the second play when he carried for 24 yards.

Wes King's try for the extra point was no good.

The score remained at 7-6 the rest of the half and throughout the third quarter. During that third quarter, Cilli broke lose for a 53-yard run and was pulled down from behind by Terry Crumley, LE safety, at the 11-yard line.

The Braves' defense again met the challenge and held, forcing West Jeff to turn the ball over on a fourth down at the three-yard line.

The Braves could not get out from the shadow of the West Jefferson goal line and Sargent punted from the six to the 33-yard line, setting up the second touchdown for the Roughriders. They took six plays to punch over the score with Cilli carrying the last yard with 11:11 showing on the clock to go in the game. The try for the extra point was wide of the goal posts.

In the last quarter the Braves filled the air with passes. Their bid on the first series after the touchdown was stopped by an interception by Cilli.

West Jeff could not move the ball against the LE defense and was forced to punt. Ray Castle boomed a 41-yarder that rolled dead on the Logan

Elm two-yard line.

The Braves again could not get away from the dangerous territory near the goal line and were forced to punt.

The kick squirted off the side of Sargent's foot and only went 10 yards to the 16-yard line.

The first play Cilli carried the ball across the goal line standing up. This

Kansas City Chiefs Hammer Out Win Over Cardinals

By FRED ROTHENBERG Associated Press Sports Writer

Like the rest of his colleagues in one of sports' most optimistic profession, Coach Hank Stram believes in omens...when they're good.

He found the kind of good sign he was looking for Friday night when his Kansas City Chiefs grounded out a 16-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in their National Football League preseason game.

"I'm real pleased with this one," Stram said. "The last three years we've lost our last preseason game and then the opener of the regular season. I hope this reverses a trend."

In the other NFL action, Detroit crushed New England 34-21 and Los Angeles rolled over San Francisco 38-10.

Stram failed to mention that the last time the Chiefs came up on top in their preseason finale, they also won the Super Bowl.

The year was 1970 and quarterback Len Dawson led a balanced offense to the victory over Minnesota.

For the second half Friday night, the 1973 edition of the Chiefs was reminiscent of that glory year as Dawson's passing and Jeff Kinney's running helped the Chiefs to the triumph.

Don Coryell, first year coach out of San Diego State, also found some sunshine in the St. Louis nightline.

He was especially pleased with the play of his two quarterbacks, veteran Jim Hart and rookie Gary Keithley.

Eight of Hart's completions went to rookie Terry Metcalf.

Detroit's Greg Landry was told he'd start the NFL season at quarterback two weeks ago by new head coach Don McCafferty and Friday night he celebrated.

Landry did everything but play defense as he passed for three touchdowns and ran for another in the Lions' victory.

"Landry played his sharpest game," McCafferty said. "I thought he ran the ball club very well."

Keystone Mite Winner Of Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Keystone Mite led from gate to wire to win the featured race at Scioto Downs and return $13, $4.60 and $2.80.

Sara Flo finished second and paid $3.60 and $2.60, and Colonial Charm was third for $2.60.

The 1-1 daily double combination of Flora Pearl and Billie Barrett paid $69.40, and the 3-4 quinella, $105.90.

A crowd of 5,820 wagered $318,170.

Junior Fullback Marsh White, of Arkansas, is a cousin to Cincinnati Red second baseman Joe Morgan.

World Series Of Golf Set

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Before Tommy Aaron even addresses a golf ball in today's opening round of the World Series of Golf, he's guaranteed $5,000.

And there's lots more if he can outplay Jack Nicklaus, Tom Weiskopf and Johnny Miller.

The foursome of Nicklaus, Weiskopf, Miller and Aaron represents the 1973 winners of golf's Big Four tournaments and they'll battle amongst themselves for the first-prize money of $50,000 in golf's most elitist event—the World Series of Golf.

Second- and third-place money in the two-day, 72-hole outing which, more than any other golf event, is geared primarily for the television cameras, will be worth $15,000 and $7,500, respectively.

Aaron, the surprise winner in the 1973 Masters, would be a surprise winner here, too, should he overcome his back problems and return to the level of golf which earned him the famed green jacket from Augusta, Ga., last spring.

Randy Mattingly Claimed By Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals Friday claimed a waived quarterback "we wanted all along," said Coach Paul Brown.

Randy Mattingly, a fourth round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns in 1973, was claimed from the Buffalo Bills. He had earlier been cut by Cleveland and the Chicago Bears before Buffalo waived him this week.

HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to think in terms of what you can do for the good of humanity. Fine for getting out in the world of social graces and activities after being helpful to those in distress. Take the time to make long-range plans.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr. 19) Fine day for showing friends kindness instead of expecting it from them. Engage in outside activities as much as you can. Retiring early is important so you can be fit for the new week.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) The right day for philanthropic work you have been wanting to do for some time. You can be especially helpful to others now. Correspond with friends and let them know what's on your mind. Show that you have wisdom.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Go to lectures where you can pick up inspiring ideas that can be helpful and profitable to you. A new friend can come into your life who can help you live a fuller, better life.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Tap your subconscious now and make notations that can be helpful to you later on. Your intuitions are very strong. Make a greater effort to please loved one. Use tenderness.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Showing appreciation to associates for their loyalty and helpfulness is wise today. Make new plans with them for the future. Spend more time with a loyal friend. Improve harmony at home.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept. 22) Doing favors for relatives and good friends who have been kind and loyal to you makes this a very rewarding day. Deepen the affection for them, and vice versa. Take health treatments.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can have a delightful day at whatever you enjoy doing the most. Engage in that creative activity that brings you real pleasure. Take time to show mate how much you value the alliance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) It is your duty to be with family today and it should also be your pleasure. Plan just how to please them more. Avoid one who wants to take you off on some tangent. Be more resolute.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Attend the services that do the most for the spiritual side of your life and be inspired for the future. Visit with relatives you like and even those you don't. Be understanding.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Talk with experts in business and informally find out how to become more successful in the days ahead. A good friend can also show you how to improve your holdings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can figure out exactly how to have greater happiness in business and personal affairs. Engage in social activity later in the day and make the right contacts. Be more cheerful.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Early morning meditation can bring you the inspiration you need now for whatever it is you want to accomplish. Get together with experts in the field in which you are most interested.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young persons who will often be thinking of the welfare of others. The education should be directed along such lines as politics, medicine and in the religious field. Going to college is a must. Teach to save money early in life for best results.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Footwork

PRESTATYN, Wales (AP) — Detectives ordered a shopkeeper here to remove a shipment of Polish-made shoes from his stock after a 13-year-old boy discovered what appeared to be microfilm hidden in his shoelaces.

Investigators sent the shoelaces to counterespionage headquarters in London but it was announced later that the use of photographic film in shoelaces was a normal manufacturing practice in Poland.

Not Quite Right

TORONTO (AP) — Statistics Canada's newly released estimate that Canadian adults drink an average of 2.2 gallons of beer a month has them laughing in some Toronto pubs. "People around here drink that much in a day," chuckled Vernon Sawtzky, a beer waiter for 15 years.
